the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 2000). The prevalence of mental health problems in the UK is estimated to be 10% (Mental Health Foundation 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems in the workplace. The Mental Health Foundation (2000) has estimated that the cost to the UK economy of mental health problems is £10 billion per year. This is due to the fact that people with mental health problems are often unable to work, and this results in a loss of productivity.

The purpose of this study was to investigate the experiences of people with mental health problems in the workplace. The study was carried out in order to identify the needs of people with mental health problems in the workplace and to develop strategies to meet these needs.

The study was carried out in two phases. The first phase was a literature review, and the second phase was a series of focus group discussions. The literature review was carried out in order to identify the current state of knowledge about mental health problems in the workplace.

The focus group discussions were carried out in order to explore the experiences of people with mental health problems in the workplace. The focus groups were carried out with a total of 12 people, who were selected through purposive sampling.

The participants in the focus groups were selected in order to ensure that they represented a range of experiences. The participants were selected from a variety of sources, including mental health charities, mental health services, and the general public.

The focus groups were carried out in a relaxed and informal setting. The participants were encouraged to share their experiences and to discuss any issues that they felt were important. The focus groups were carried out over a period of 60 minutes.

The data from the focus groups were analysed using the template analysis approach. This approach involves identifying themes in the data and then organising the data into categories based on these themes. The template analysis approach was chosen for this study because it is a flexible and adaptable approach that can be used to explore a wide range of issues.

The results of the study are presented in the following sections. The first section presents the findings of the literature review, and the second section presents the findings of the focus group discussions. The final section discusses the implications of the findings for practice.

The findings of the literature review indicate that there is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems in the workplace. However, there is still a need for more research in this area.

The findings of the focus group discussions indicate that people with mental health problems experience a range of difficulties in the workplace. These difficulties include difficulties with communication, difficulties with managing stress, and difficulties with managing their condition.

The findings of the study suggest that there is a need for more support and resources for people with mental health problems in the workplace. This support and resources should be aimed at addressing the specific difficulties that people with mental health problems experience in the workplace.

The findings of the study also suggest that there is a need for more training and education for employers and managers. This training and education should be aimed at helping employers and managers to understand the needs of people with mental health problems and to develop strategies to meet these needs.

The findings of the study have implications for practice. The findings suggest that there is a need for more support and resources for people with mental health problems in the workplace. [[ CLINTON, INDIANA ]]

DEDICATION

*We, the Senior Class of 1926, in due respect and honor to the Athletic Teams of Clinton High
School for their clean sportsmanship and unfaltering loyalty
dedicate this volume of the Old Gold and Black.*

"To these teams we sincerely dedicate this Annual."

FOREWORD

Students and friends, accept this little gift, Old Gold and Black, in the spirit in which the Staff offers it. If you diligently read and study it, you will recognize our extreme desire to give you a complete picture of our school life in the past year. This Annual we have not adorned with high-flown language or any other extrinsic attraction, but the value of our subject, Dear Old C. H. S., alone recommends it. Though we deem the work unworthy of the greatness of C. H. S., yet we are bold enough to hope that your courtesy will dispose you to accept it.

"Let all things have their places."

Administration

Schools today are big business enterprises. They have the great task of educating the young people of the United States in order that the fundamental principles of American democracy shall be preserved by the future generations of loyal Americans. In the present, when we hear so much about the laxity of our laws, the inefficiency and corruptness of our courts, the domineering of a few over our cities, and the decline in standards and morals of our people, we realize the immensity of the job that the school system has before it. Hence it is most necessary that our schools be efficient and thorough to the highest degree.

No business enterprise can work well without a capable board of directors. Clinton is indeed fortunate in having a very excellent board to manage her school system. As president of the board is Mrs. Frank L. Swinehart, a woman who has always been a leader in civic affairs of Clinton. When any worth while movement is being launched, you can count on the support of Mrs. Swinehart. Always ready to do those things which are best for C. H. S., she has given her unqualified support and co-operation to make our school rank among the leading high schools of the state. Supporting Mrs. Swinehart are Dr. W. D. Gerrish and Mr. Connerly, treasurer and secretary of the board. Animated by the same spirit, they are doing all they can to make Clinton proud of her high school. Our hats are off to the school board.

Besides a board of directors, a corporation must have an executive. Supt. George W. McReynolds, serving his eighth year in Clinton, very capably fills that executive position. The Clinton schools have shown much progress since Mr. McReynolds has guided the way. The schools have greatly increased in size, making it necessary to have a building program. Mr. McReynolds has done all he can to provide facilities to meet their needs. The two high schools have been built during his administration. A firm believer in making the Clinton school system the best, he has bent every nerve to carry out this resolution. Mr. McReynolds has inculcated a fine spirit of sportsmanship among the students and fans of Clinton. Mr. McReynolds, we are for you.

Miss Nema Carlin, secretary of Mr. McReynolds is a very necessary cog in the wheel of our school system. She keeps the office in excellent order, looking after the many details and incidentally not forgetting to give the teachers their pay checks. (Indeed none of us could get along without Nema).

Last, but foremost, is Mr. Michael, the principal of C. H. S. Mr. Michael won a host of friends in Clinton last year and is winning more every day. He has proved a very capable principal, knowing just when to be business-like, when to be friendly, when sympathetic and when tactful. He is a friend both to teachers and students, always willing to help out in any situation no matter how trivial or difficult it may be. Mr. Michael has been a booster for everything that is clean in education, athletics and community activities. We sincerely hope that he may spend further years in the service of Clinton Schools.

"The longer one lives the more he learns."

Senior High School

"Dear Old C. H. S.! What memories those few words recall! Remember, Joe, when first we entered her portals just four short years ago. You were a mere kid in trousers and I was only a little older. We were green, frightened, and awed by the solemnity of the occasion. We gazed half in fear at the assembling multitudes. Would we ever find our way about; would we ever get enrolled in the right classes; would we ever find our way through the labyrinth of the many courses?

"Our worst fears were soon allayed. C. H. S. was a wonderful place after all. Things were not a bit hard after we became acquainted. The students were friendly even though they did poke fun at us freshmen. The teachers were kind and they helped us to select our courses and outline our subjects for the year. In a short time we had become a part of the school in both a scholastic and social way.

"One year slipped by, two, three and finally we were Seniors. Probably only then did we begin to truly realize what Old C. H. S. meant to us. She had been our friend throughout four years. We had had the pleasure of taking part in her activities, the honor to represent her in scholastic and athletic contests, the good fortune to receive all she had to give us in her many lines of training.

"Now we are departing after four short happy years. Pardon me, Joe, if I brush away a tear. Wouldn't it be glorious if we could re-enter and again share in her spirit and work? We can't, but let us resolve never to lower her, nor cast reflection upon her, but always boost for her. C. H. S., we are proud to be a graduate of you."

History Of The Senior Class Of 1926

In the fall of the year of 1922 a huge band of Freshmen were admitted to the high school, heralded but uninitiated. Following the precedent set by former classes, we, the Frosh, held an election. John Magnabosco, our star fullback, was elected president. His aide-de-camp were Adolph Stickle, vice-president and Andrew Graham, secretary and treasurer. Both "Andy" and Stickle proved themselves to be football heroes like "Maggie." Miss Muncie was our sponsor.

We came back the next year, no longer so green that the cows would eat us, to fill the seats left vacant by former Sophomores. Miss Muncie was again elected class sponsor. Juanita Carlin was elected class president, Jessie Wood, vice-president, and Grace Eller, secretary and treasurer. In this year the Seniors and Sophomores put on the play, "Miss Somebody Else," to raise money for the athletic equipment fund. The success of this play may be vouched for by the beautiful gold and black blankets used by the team last year and this.

Once more a year passed (mirabile dictu) and once more our class, now known as Juniors, took the places in the assembly given them. We elected, in this year, Mrs. Johnson to sponsor our class. Juanita Carlin again took office as president, Tiami Lahti, Darrell Overpeck, and Dorothy Poor were elected vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively. The class following the set custom, gave a banquet in honor of the departing graduates of 1925. The Junior athletes of 1925 won the inter-class toga and were recognized as school champs.

Again we, as Seniors, banded together in our last year, a much smaller and different body. We were not always the happy gang that had been, at times we were saddened by the thought that we must leave our school and classmates behind and go forth into the world and begin real life. Nevertheless we drew together for a last election. Mrs. Johnson was again elected sponsor; Darrell Overpeck was elected to lead the class through its final year, Juanita Carlin was elected as his assistant and Evelyn Beard was elected to serve as secretary and treasurer. Before we left we gave the annual Senior play, this year, "The Hottentot." The class had to go as others have gone and others will go, the world moves and we must send educated men and women to go with it.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class, of 1926, having almost reached our goal—a diploma—and wishing to dispose of our possessions, make and publish this, our last will and testament.

To Mrs. Johnson, our sponsor, we will our thanks and appreciation of her help and guidance.

To Mr. "Mac" we will the right to boast of the football teams.

To Mr. Michael we will the right to make more rules and regulations.

To Miss Mainard, we will a copy of "How He Proposed."

To "Dearie", we will a driver's license (for Dodge).

To Miss Wright we will a complete set of Shakespeare's works.

To Miss Conley, we will a new blackboard and a box of chalk, so that she will have plenty of room to write "Books due."

To Miss Livingstone we will the right to give more chocolate boxes to Public Speaking students.

To Miss West, we will a three-legged stool, so that she can reach the blackboard.

To Miss Morgan, we will a swivel chair and a bright cushion to be used in the ticket booths.

To Miss Medill, we will a sheep-skin coat to be worn while she freezes the second and fourth period assemblies.

To Miss Hall, we will the right to make champions of the Athenians.

To Miss Fordice, we will our Howling Host caps to be distributed next year among loyal howlers.

To Mrs. McWethy we will the right to wear out the blackboard writing notices for the Juniors.

To Miss Long we will the right to use red ink more freely.

To Miss Randolph, we will the right to lead the singing provided she makes them sing right.

To Mr. Stwalley and Mr. Cunningham, we will the right to "police" the walks.

To Miss Wood and Miss Balch, we will the right to "run" the Commercial department.

To Miss Clayton we will a 3-gallon still for the laboratory—to be used for experiments only.

To Miss Warren, we will the right to serve another Junior-Senior banquet.

To Mr. Reeder, we will this motto: "Faint heart ne'er won Fair Lady."

I, Jenny Antti, will my "socks" to Edris James, who would love to wear them.

I, John "Maggie" m., will my football ability to Percell, who shows ability in that line.

I, Louis "Pooby" Ladiha, will my ability to entertain Miss Medill's second and fourth assemblies to James Stout, provided he remembers to stay for the ninth periods.

I, Edgar Adams, will my musical talent to Edward Massa, provided he will not drown out the orchestra.

I, Edward Reese, will my oratorical ability to Darrell Freleigh if he will learn to say "pawss" (pass) and "lawfta" (laughter).

I, Laverne Loudon, will my quiet ways to John Tuck.

I, Alda Marietta, will my "come-hither eyes" to Helen McNair, so that she will be better able to keep Forrest.

"We do hereby will and bequeath."

CLASS WILL—Continued

- I, Martha Hays, have nothing to leave (for I'm taking David with me).
 I, Gladys Satterlee, leave my flowing tresses to Genevieve Shew.
 I, Dorothy Newkirk, will my position as office stenographer to Margaret Phillips.
 I, Nelle Milbourne, will my position as library stenographer to William Fenoglio, provided he attends strictly to business.
 I, Louise Hayek, will my position as yell leader to Jennie Burton, provided she leaves Pete alone.
 I, Clara Elliot, will my studiousness to Bob Griffith.
 I, Taimi Lahti, will my position on the basketball team to "Willie" Wright.
 I, Mabel Stoddard, will my ability to vamp Brazil sheiks to Mayme Williams, provided she lets Raymond alone.
 I, Evelyn Beard, will my ability to Charleston to Paul Ashley, provided he will take Mary Lou to dances.
 We, Margarite Pollo, Imogene McDaniel, and Emma Rigoni, will our typewriters to Lucy W., Thelma S., and Helen K., provided they keep up our good records.
 I, Elsie Short, will my persuasive powers to Otto Turner, provided he can bluff Miss Wood.
 We, Joe Claretto and Lewis Burk, will some of our surplus height to "Dearie" and Miss West, so that they can be seen as well as heard.
 I, Barbara Cerrera, will my ability to go through high school in three years, to Laverne Wright.
 I, Virginia Easter, will my knowledge of Government to Miss Fordice to be distributed among the Freshmen.
 We, the "Three Horsemen" (Paul Williams, Emlyn Taylor and Richard Wilson) will all our worthless books to the Miscellaneous fund.
 I, Dorothy Poor, having to leave "Wrighty", cannot spare anything else, but appoint Miss Morgan as committee of one to keep an eye on him.
 We, Mildred Boling and Violet Pierce, will our knowledge of Bunsen (and Bunsen sheiks) to Floris Wheeler and Jean Wilkie.
 We, Lucile Martin, Rosie Ghiglieri, Lahja Lehtovaara, and Mary Newcome, will our useless bus tickets as souvenirs to the high school faculty.
 We, Archie Ruatto, Anton Fenoglio and Mike, will our ability to pester the Commercial students to Samuel Oswalt and Thomas Sharp.
 I, Mary Harrison, leave my knowledge of men to Florence Auer.
 I, Eli Borkon, will to John Niemi, my one and only volume of "How to Fascinate the Females."
 We, Agnes Ball and Nora Brown, will our knowledge of State Road 54 to anyone who wants it.
 I, Marie Koonce, will my ability to train a "Hoss" to Louise Roberts, provided she don't use my "Hoss".
 I, Martha Bence, will my ability to boost the teams to Jessie Satterlee, provided she don't get lockjaw.
 I, Oscar Borkon, will a half a dozen W. C. Reducing records to John Kerr (they did me a lot (?) of good).
 I, Lueretia Swinehart, will my position on the Staff to Georgia Campbell, provided she will not bother Raymond C.
 I, Pearl Thomas, will my knowledge of advanced art to Sid Silverman, since he has at last learned to draw his breath.
 I, Grace Calvert, will some of my surplus beaux to Sue Skidmore, provided she treats them nice.
 I, David Lawson, will my ability to play a "uke" to Agnes Llewellyn, provided

"A boy's will is the wind's will."

she takes vocal lessons.

We, Lovilla Dunn and Edith Gilbert, will our winning ways to Ruth Robertson and Hannah Lawson.

I, Thelma Hanna, will my copy of "Men, and How to Train Them," to Martha Pierce.

I, Estelline Creal, will my knowledge of Latin to Madalene Ave.

I, Alice McClintock, leave my brother's address to any good-looking Junior (provided Nelle M. doesn't know it).

I, Darrell Overpeck, will my ability to win chocolate boxes to any future Public Speaking student.

I, Alvise Ave, will my knowledge of Ninth Street to Walter Staats, provided he doesn't get lost.

I, Juanita Carlin, will an 8-volume set of "How to Drive a Buick", to Lois Griffin.

I, Mary Kander, will my knowledge of Bookkeeping to George Wheat, provided he puts it to good advantage.

I, Ralph Beal, will my position on the football team to anyone who can keep it.

I, Mary Lou Whitecomb, leave nothing, but take more. (Moore).

I, Russell Martin, will my straight hair to Freddie Meyers, providing said Freddie will not use "Sta-omb."

To Nettie Laird, I, Russell Wilson, will my genius as a violinist, provided she stays in tune.

I, Mary Curtis, will my parking place in the hall (6th period) to anyone who will continue to keep a monopoly upon it.

I, Frank Patch, will my job as an usher at the Capitol, to Ralph Hayes, provided he keeps the best seats for the best looking girls.

I, Toivo Salminen, will my goodness to Lawrence Shannon, who is badly in need of it.

I, Josephine Murdock, will my Typing medals to anyone that wants them.

I, Marion Moore, will nothing. (I need every cent.)

We, Attilio Rigoni, Ernest and Bernest Moore, Thomas Tindale, and Osear Hill, will our positions on the football team to those whom "Spike" picks out.

I, Adelbert Hayes, leave my seat in the Assembly to Clifford Marsh (since Maggie won't be there to "start the fun").

I, Opal Hamilton, will my front seat (in Assembly) to Miss Conley, to give to some studious (?) student.

I, John Whyte, will my paper route to anyone who has a bike.

I, Ernest Johnson, will my knowledge of Math to anyone who wants it.

I, Mary Wisniewski, will my musical talent (piano) to Mary Hosa.

I, Toivo Niemonen, will my artistic talent to Orville Melbourne, (provided he knows that purple is a combination of yellow and blue.)

I, Carl Meyer, will fifty copies of "How to Become a Senior," to fifty enterprising Freshmen.

Witness: This instrument was signed, acknowledged and declared on oath, by above-named Senior Class for its last will and testament, and was subscribed to us by:

Class Prophecy

Verna's Results

Place: Washington, D. C.

Time: January 13, 1936.

Characters:

Verna Wright a very modern young girl who calls her parents by their first names.

Dorothy and Laverne—Her mother and father.

A few members of the Senior Class.

Act I—Scene I

Place: Living room of the Wright home.

Verna: Say, Dot, where is Ralph Beal?

Dorothy: Are you still seeking information? Laverne, Verna is having such a time trying to find out about members of my 1926 class to put in the Alumni Book.

Laverne: Well, why doesn't she go to the U. S. Information Bureau over on White Street? I imagine she could learn about quite a few of them there.

Verna: Say, Jack, you sure have got a hotsy-totsy mind. Believe me, it sure is one job looking up these old fogies for that book. Why couldn't they have had Mary Ann Moore do it? Her folks, Mary Lounse and Marion, were both members of the class.

Dorothy: Well, really I don't know.

Verna: Well, folks, listen to this; it happens to be all I have so far; I don't have it in form for the book, of course—but here is the low-down on them as far as I can get it:

John Magnabosco and his wife, Irene, are living in New York. They are teaching dancing and football to Harvard students. During vacations Maggie sells real estate.

Estelline Creal has been writing "Advice to the Love-Lorn," for the New York Herald.

Virginia Easter, until she got married, was a demonstrator of beauty cream.

Attilio Rigoni is at present Mayor of Hollywood. He finally learned to flirt and he became such a ladies' man that all the ladies in Hollywood voted for him.

Juanita Carlin finally married Bill and they are now caring for their fifty-two children. They have been in charge of an orphans' home for a number of years.

Louise Hayek kicked her way into Ziegfeld Follies and is still kicking.

Louis Ladiha is in California at the present time playing opposite Mabel Stoddard in a picture that is being produced, entitled, "Three Guesses."

Rosie Ghiglieri is a toe-dancer of great renown.

Grace Calvert is now living in Reno. She was divorced several years ago from Dick, and is now at work writing a book entitled: "The End of a Perfect Love Affair."

Paul Williams is a well-known manufacturer of hand-carved curtain rods. He also owns the Williams Shaving Cream factory.

Now, then, Dot, this is all I've got so far. Can't you think of some more?

Dorothy: Well, I can think of their names, but I don't know where they are. Can you help her out, Laverne?

Laverne: Yes, Darrell Overpeck is a woman-hater now, because he proposed to so many girls that he got housemaid's knee, and had to give up his professional job of exhibiting the Charleston.

Verna: Red Hot Sox! Jack! You sure are right there when it comes to having news. Well, folks, I guess I'll go to the U. S. Information Bureau and find out what I can. G'bye!

"We know in part and we prophesy in part."

OLD GOLD AND BLACK

Scene II—U. S. Information Bureau.

Verna finds at the Information Bureau that only fifteen members of the class were recorded there. From this source she gains the following information:

Mike Maryonvich is the president of the "Takeum and Keepum" Bank.

Alda Marietta poses for Real Silk Hosiery Ads.

Ralph Beal is president and owner of the Greatest Glass-eye factory in the world. At present he has sleeping-sickness and his wife, Barbara Carrera, a very brilliant trombone player, is taking charge of the factory.

Archie Ruatto has charge of the Pittsburg Fire Department. He also has invented a new water solution in which you place matches to prevent them from catching on fire.

Lucretia Swinehart took charge of an Old People's Home, but she fell in love with an inmate who reminded her of Ray Cliver, and is now quite happily married to him.

Ernest Moore is singing with Evelyn Beard in the Grand Opera "Omelet".

Emlen Taylor writes jokes for "College Humor" and "Whiz-Bang." His slogan for success has always been "Originality is the Spice of Life."

Oscar Borkon with the aid of his wife, Clara Elliot, invented the famous clock, "Tock, tuck, tickler," with the siren alarm on it.

Frank Patch is posing for Arrow Collar Ads. He still believes he is the personification of the truth: "Small but mighty."

Agnes Ball and Nora Brown are playing piano solos together. Their concerts are very famous because no one ever goes to hear them.

Scene III—Public Library.

Verna is found poring over the Who's Who Department in the library. In the books there she learns the following:

Alvise Ave has invented a new kind of perambulator which has a chloroform bottle attached.

Toivo Niemonen and Toivo Salimen are among the most famous of hangers. They hang wall paper.

Lahja Lehtovaara is the most famous demonstrator of Hoosier carpet sweepers the company has ever been able to find.

Mary Curtis and Lovilla Dunn are selling tickets for Lewis Burke's Carnival Amusement Company.

Imogene McDaniel, having won International fame with her Home Lighting essay, is a popular lecturer on "Bright Lights."

Nelle Milbourne has invented a wonderful apparatus which prevents the jaw from getting tired while talking a great deal.

Thomas Tindale is now president of the Better Street Cleaners' Union. He has also invented the Better Ash Can.

Josephine Murdock and Violet Pierce are operating Hot Dog stands at Loney Island.

Marie Koonce, now Mrs. Kendall, spends her time waving a rolling pin over her husband's head. He is suing for divorce now, however.

Mary Wisniewski is a traveling saleswoman now. She sells systematic ideas for catching trains.

Pearl Thomas is a renowned W. C. T. U. Speaker. She has given speeches all over the country and is a quite famous contender for the cause.

Act II—Scene I—Living room of Wright home.

Verna returns home and reads this to her parents.

Verna: I wonder what I shall do for the rest of them.

Laverne: By Jove! I have an idea! Why not go to the QRSTUVW Broadcasting station and send out a request for information?

Verna: Hot ziggety-zog! Popper! You sure deserve the diamond-studded tooth-pick for that thought! Your intelligence is astounding! Well, here I go, I'll be back sometime in the near future!

Verna exits and goes to Station QRSTUVW where she sends forth a desperate

"I shall always consider the best guesser the best prophet."

plea for information concerning some of her mother's classmates. While she is gone Dot and Jack talk over old times. As a result of her plea she comes home with the following information:

Adelbert Hayes is Editor-In-Chief of the famous scandal sheet, "Weblabit." His ability along this line was gained in High School.

Jennie Antti wrote the famous song, "We Haven't Found Any Flies On Auntie," after breaking Bernest Moore's heart by refusing to marry him. He finally decided against suicide.

David Lawson invented the famous left-handed monkey-wrench and is now completing a left-handed ukelele.

Taimi Lahti is one of the greatest sousaphone players in the world. She is now also a great football critic. It depends upon her whether a man is a second Red Grange or not.

Mildred Boling Shew is now a great novelist. She only charges ten cents for her books, but they aren't dime novels.

Richard Wilson is now posing for Fatima cigarette advertisements. During his off hours he is a sculptor of repute.

Mary Harrison is now the "Big Lion" of the famous organization of "Knicker Knackers."

Martha Hays now has charge of the Home for the Deaf and Dumb. She likes it especially since there is nothing much to do.

Joe Claretto has given up his life work as a singer to be a chef in the Ritz Carlton Hotel of New York.

Gladys Satterlee is now known as the only woman who preaches as well as Billy Sunday did. She, however, did not formerly play baseball.

Edgar Adams is now playing his violin in dentists' offices to keep dentists' patients from feeling such acute pain in their teeth.

Eli Borkon has won fame through discovering and giving to the world a delightful reducing diet; ice cream and onions.

Emma Rigoni, Dorothy Newkirk and Mary Newcome are chorus girls in a play entitled: "Patent Leather Oxfords." It was written by La Verne Loudon, the great play-writer.

Carl Meyers went against his father's wishes and instead of being a baker is now peddling cigars over the country.

Thelma Hanna is now a famous Abolitionist. She wants to abolish such words as the "Roosevelt Dam" from use since it sounds like swearing.

Russell Martin is now a knife sharpener, who keeps grinding along.

Elsie Short is now included among the famous swimmers of the world. Feather Creek and Sugar Creek are two famous waterways she has swum over.

John White has become a great builder. He builds all the white houses in his city.

Reverend Edward Reese has become famous for his melodious singing as well as his oratory.

Oscar Hill is now a great scenario writer living in Hollywood. He has written the wonderful play, "Three Guesses."

Marguerite Pollo is now successfully teaching the Hindu and Chinese language in Clinton High School.

Anton Fenoglio is a famous detective. He has been noted for finding out the names of missing persons.

Lucile Martin and Alice McClintock are becoming wealthy as well as famous through selling ready-made class prophecies to needy Senior classes over the country.

Verna: Well, at last that is finished. President Johnson and his wife, formerly Mary Kendara, are coming to our house for dinner this evening. If you think of anything else, Pop, you just add it to the postscript. Mary Ann and I are going to an annual staff meeting. B'bye.

(Vouched for by Miss Martha Bence, X. Y. Z., PDQ., RSVP., BVD., etc.)

JUNIOR OFFICERS

President	Darrell Freleigh
Vice-President	Fannie Rosen
Secretary	Georgia Campbell
Treasurer	Martha Pierce

The Junior Class of 1926 has had an excellent representation in the various activities of our school. In football the names of Kendall, Martin, Van Hoosier and Faulds are signed upon the roster. The basketball floor was graced by Van Hoosier and Faulds. Margaret McKinney, George McReynolds and Paul Ashly find themselves at home in debating work. Darrell Freleigh and Paul Ashley are taking part in the oratorical contests. Darrell Freleigh will be a representative in the County Reading Contest. The prospect for an able Senior class next year is very bright.

In Memoriam

Clifford Cullen—January 12, 1908—September 4, 1925.

Frank Cullen—September 20, 1910—September 4, 1925.

The lesser griefs that may be said,
That breathe a thousand tender vows,
Are but as servants in a house
Where lies the master newly dead;

Who speak their feeling as it is,
And weep the fullness from the mind;
"It will be hard," they say, "to find Another service such as this."

My lighter moods are like to these,
That out of words a comfort win;
But there are other griefs within,
And tears that at their fountain freeze:

For by the hearth the children sit
Cold in that atmosphere of Death,
And scarce endure to draw the breath,
Or like to noiseless phantoms flit.

But open converse is there none,
So much the vital spirits sink
To see the vacant chair, and think,
"How good! how kind! and he is gone."

This staff has been chosen from a student body to put the various and many reminiscences of 1925-26 into the Clinton High School year book, The Old Gold and Black

In order to do this properly we must have unity. The Staff is merely a large chain linked together by means of the different departmental duties. But—"a chain is as strong as its weakest link." Thus, to promote this annual we must put our supreme effort into the task and only by a complete co-operation will the Old Gold and Black be a success.

The work of preparing this annual is divided equally into different departments and sections over which there is a Senior in charge and a Junior to act as an assistant.

This staff sincerely hopes it has been able to produce a masterpiece of "Clinton's Classes-cism" in the form of Old Gold and Black. It realizes that its fond hopes of a good annual would have been inane and empty without the splendid support of the student body.

The Athenian Debating Society was organized in the fall of 1923 with Miss Fordice as sponsor (for two years).

The purpose of this club is to promote friendly rivalry between its members and those of the other debating club and thereby develop interest in debating.

In 1925 the club was reorganized with Miss Hall as sponsor.

"A knock-down argument; 'tis but a word and a blow."

Ionian Debating Club

The Ionian Debating Club was organized in the fall of 1923 under the sponsorship of Mrs. McWethy. The purpose of the club is to create an interest in debate and to give each member a chance to improve himself in this kind of work.

From the small number of students who made up the first Ionian club, the membership list has grown until today the club is one of the largest and most active in the school.

For the last two years, graduation has sadly depleted the ranks of the Ionians. This year, although the club loses some of its best members, that condition has been guarded against through admitting to membership some of the very promising freshmen and sophomores.

At the time of this writing, the Ionians are hoping to defeat the Athenians on the question, Resolved: "That Student Self-Government Should Be Adopted in Clinton High School."

"I am bound to furnish my antagonists with arguments."

Inter Nos

OFFICERS

President.....	Estelline Creal
Vice-President.....	James Stout
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Martha Pierce
Sponsors.....	Mrs. Johnson and Miss Medill

The aim of the Inter Nos Club is to make students who are interested in Latin more familiar with the customs and styles of the ancient Romans, to increase the Latin vocabulary, to cause a deeper interest in Latin, and to take up such phases of Latin as cannot be dealt with in class.

This club was first organized in the fall of 1921. It was given the name of Inter Nos, and its constitution was formed in the spring of 1922.

At the meetings, which are held after school once a month, Latin songs and poems, ancient Roman myths and practices of the ancient Romans are discussed.

Le Cercle Francais, originally the French Club, was organized in C. H. S. on December 7, 1923. Its object is to take up such phases of French as cannot be dealt with in class and to cause a deeper interest in French.

"L'accent est l'ame du discours."

Blue Triangle Club

OFFICERS

President	Taimi Lahti
Vice-President	Opal Hamilton
Secretary	Loraine Miller
Treasurer	Martha Pierce

Early in the fall of 1924, the X-L Blue Triangle Club was organized with Miss Mainard as sponsor.

Any Senior High School girl, passing in three subjects is eligible to membership. The club is divided into four groups; the sponsors of the different sections are: Miss Deardorff of the social, Miss Fordice of the membership, Miss Warren of the service, and Miss Medill of the program group.

The aim of all Blue Triangle work is three-fold, mainly the development to the highest degree of body, mind, and spirit. The purpose of the X-L Blue Triangle Club is to create a spirit of friendship among our fellow workers and do our best at school, at work, at home and in the whole community.

The outstanding events in the X-L Blue Triangle calendar last year were the giving of baskets to the poor at Thanksgiving, an initiation in December by the Terre Haute girls after which we entertained them. In January delegates were sent to Terre Haute to the annual Blue Triangle Conference. A hike to Montezuma was held in March and in April a wiener roast. In May a very successful Festival was given, and then at the close of the school year a party was enjoyed.

The work this year is being carried on in very much the same manner. Meetings are held the first Monday evening of each month at the High School.

"Enjoy life by making every day a great one."

President.....	Dorothy Poor
Vice-President.....	Mary E. Harrison
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Russell Martin
Board of Control Member.....	Darrel Overpeck

Motto:  $b^2$  and  $c^2$

The Math Club was organized in 1921, with Willis Martin as President, for those interested in Mathematics. The purpose of it is to explain the minor points that we do not have time to discuss in class. The Club has shown much progress in its work.

"Good luck lies in odd numbers."

Board of Control Member.....	Lucile Martin
Sponsors.....	Miss Helen Wood and Miss Mary Balch

The Commercial Club is composed of a group of students interested in commercial work. Each member is either taking the commercial course or enrolled in one or more commercial classes. The club has for its aims: the furthering of the interests of the commercial department, the gaining of broader knowledge of the commercial world, and the promoting of social intercourse in C. H. S. Each year the club makes money to help finance the sending of contestants to the district commercial contests.

The social event for the first semester was a Christmas party at the home of Nelle Milbourne, South Fourth Street. There was a Christmas tree and presents were exchanged.

The social event for the second semester was a Valentine party at Hill Crest. Alumni members of the club, all graduates of the commercial course, and juniors and seniors enrolled at present on the commercial course besides the regular club members, were invited. Mr. and Mrs. Michaels were also guests. About sixty-five students and former commercial students spent a very pleasant evening.

Home Economics Club

OFFICERS

President.....	Grace Eller
Secretary.....	Martha Hays
Treasurer.....	Charlotte McReynolds
Sponsor.....	Miss Blanche Warren

The Home Economics Club was organized by Miss Blanche Warren in the fall of 1924. The club was organized for the purpose of arousing interest in the Home Economics subject, not only among students in that department but among students of other departments as well.

The new subjects which were introduced into the Home Economics Course, such as: Home Nursing, Home Management, House Planning, and Costume Design, were to be especially emphasized in meetings. The old idea that a Home Economics Course consisted only of Foods and Cookery; Sewing and Clothing is now to be eradicated because those subjects make up only a part of the course.

Illustrated lectures and demonstrations on various subjects such as Color, Line and Design in Dress, etc., by Home Economics students or teacher furnished the educational part of each meeting's program.

"Cookery has become an art, a noble science."

Howling Host

The Howling Host is an organization whose sole purpose is to arouse enthusiasm in the student body during the various athletic contests in which C. H. S. has participants. Members of Howling Host are responsible for the decorations at the games. We are conceited enough to believe that we did a small part in beating Robinson last fall. We put pep into all the games for:

We howl and howl,
That's all we do.
We howl when they're winning
And losing, too.

"Opposition embitters the enthusiast but never converts him."

Librarians' Club

We are for service, as you see,
To give you books of land and sea;
Or tell you when 'tis time to bring
The books you borrowed yesterday.
And "how" and "where" to find the day
That Milton died, or chimes did ring,
Or even why the earth was round,
Where Columbus found he could not drown.
'Tis in our land of books you'll find
The place to travel, and why 'tis true
The "lib." was built for me and you.

"There is no Past, as long as Books live."

Orchestra

MEMBERS OF THE ORCHESTRA

Violins: Russell Wilson, John Povolones, Edgar Adams, Nettie Laird, Betty Cunningham.

Clarinets: Edward Massa, Paul Ashley.

Trombone: Russell Martin

Pianist: Norma Marketto.

Director: Miss Betty Marie Randolph.

An orchestra was organized this year in C. H. S. under the direction of Miss Betty Marie Randolph.

The orchestra proved the talent of its members by giving a general assembly November 4. This consisted wholly of musical numbers, and the orchestra played for the faculty play given at the Capitol.

"Gayly the troubadour touched his guitar."

Girls' Glee Club

OFFICERS

Pianist .....	Norma Marketto
President.....	Nettie Laird
Vice-President .....	Martha Pierce
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Norma Marketto
Librarian.....	Catherine Wright
Director.....	Miss Betty Marie Randolph

A Girls' Glee Club was organized this year at C. H. S. under the direction of Miss Betty Marie Randolph.

The chorus has proved very successful by singing at a general assembly given by the music department. They also sang at the faculty play given at the Capitol and were all dressed in white middy suits and black ties.

"Let music sound while he doth make his choice."

Board Of Control

OFFICERS

President.....	Mr. Boyd
Secretary.....	Louisc Paine
Comptroller .....	Mr. Michael

In the election of officers the requirements are that the President must be a member of the faculty, and the Secretary must be a student.

The Clinton High School Board of Control is composed of one representative from each club and class in the Junior and Senior High Schools. The clubs represented include the Mathematics, Blue Triangle, Home Economics, Latin, French, Commercial, Citamard, and the Athenian and Ionian Debating Clubs. The Annual Staff also is represented. There are three members of the faculty from Junior High, and three from Senior High on the Board. The representatives may be either elected or appointed, usually for the period of a year.

As the Board is largely composed of students, its purpose is to enable the students of the Senior and Junior High Schools to feel that they have a share in the control of school affairs. It is to make the students feel that, through their representatives, they are taking an active part in the business brought before the Board of Control.

The Board takes action on such matters as establishing the price of admission to football and basketball games and other activities of the school, plans to increase the attendance of games, the awarding of letters to boys on the various athletic teams, financial problems, and anything else which concerns the welfare of the school and the student body.

The Board of Control also has its own constitution and amendments may be made to it by a two-thirds vote of the members.

"Think and judge impartially."

Citamard Club

OFFICERS

President.....	Darrel Freleigh
Vice-President.....	Grace Calvert
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Mary Louise Whitcomb
Board of Control Member.....	Lucretia Swinehart

The Citamard Club began the year 1925-26 greatly reduced in numbers, having lost the greater part of their membership by graduation.

Try-outs were held for new members early in the year, and about twenty-five new members were initiated, passing successfully through the various degrees of the club's mystic rites. These were given by the Greek Muse of Comedy who was present for the evening.

This year the club has added two new departments, the Art and Costume Designing. A model stage has been constructed. It is planned to have a setting illustrating each type of play studied.

The club hopes to present a group of one-act plays the second semester, constructing the settings and designing the costumes.

The members hope to see the time when C. H. S. will have a fully-equipped stage all its own upon which to present plays.

Oratory

Contests in oratory, declamation, and discussion claim the center of high school activity in March and April. While the final efforts are being made to capture the basketball crown of Indiana High Schools, a few boys and girls oratorically inclined are polishing up their speeches for the contests in speaking. It is well that this interest is manifested for the ability to stand before an audience and speak to them efficiently, forcefully, and pleasantly, is a gift worth laboring to attain.

C. H. S. has always participated in these contests. Sometimes the number of students trying out for places has been disappointing. In 1925 we participated in the County Oratorical, County Reading, County Constitutional, and District Discussion. Darrell Freleigh was our representative in oratory and won third place. Grace Calvert represented C. H. S. in reading, tying for third place. Harold Wisehart spoke at Newport in the Constitution Contest and won fourth place. Halford Thompson won third place in the District Contest in the Discussion League. The first three of these students also were awarded the school medal for winning, in open contest, the right to represent C. H. S.

This year more interest is manifested in these contests and a larger number of students are entering the local contests. We shall have representatives in the County Oratorical and Reading Contests, the County Constitutional Contests, and in the District State Discussion League.

COMMERCIAL CONTEST

The students of the Commercial Department of C. H. S. take great pride in the fact that they won the banner at the District Commercial Contest held at Brazil in April last year.

These district contests are held each year preliminary to the state contest of Muncie. Each school in the district is entitled to send a team of three persons to compete in each event. Teams winning first, second, or third places, and individuals winning first, second or third places count points for the school from which they come. C. H. S. students won first honors with a total of 51 points. Brazil second with 39 points, and Garfield third.

The winning teams and individuals were as follows:

Bookkeeping:	.....	First team place
Helen Dean.....	.....	First individual place
Alice Isgragg.....	.....	Second individual place
Bessie Dugger
Penmanship.....	.....	First team place
Nellie Topolosek.....	.....	First individual place
Zella McGinnis.....	.....	Second individual place
Juanita Carlin
Beginning Shorthand:	.....	First team place
Esther Miller.....	.....	Second individual place
Evelyn Beard.....	.....	Third individual place
Dorothy Newkirk
Advanced Shorthand:	.....
Ethel Griffith.....	.....	Third individual place

COMMERCIAL—Continued

Novice Typing:.....	Second team place
Violet Pierce.....	First individual place
Imogene McDaniel.....	Third individual place
Juanita Carlin.....
Amature Typing:.....	Third team place
Madaline Pollo.....	Third individual place
Edith Forte.....
Ethel Griffith.....

Contestants and teachers made the trip to Brazil in automobiles and spent a very pleasant day at the high school there. But the greatest pleasure of course, was in "bringing home the bacon."

The district contest is to be held in Clinton this year on April 24.

LATIN CONTEST

The first State High School Latin contest was held at Indiana University, April 25, 1924.

In February, each year, local contests are held in the various high schools over the state. Next the county contests are held in which the winners of the local contests, two from each year of Latin from the various high schools enrolled in each county participate. In March the district contests occur in which the winners in the county contests, two from each division take part. The winners of the district contests, one for each year are eligible to enter the state contest.

Clinton High School was fortunate enough to have a representative in Division III in the first State Tourney—Bessie Dugger. Last year we were even more fortunate in having two district winners in the second State Contest—George McReynolds and James Stout, representatives of Division 1A and 1B, Kenneth Miller in Division 1B, Joseph Sperotto and Donald Doughty in Division 1A, Ureel Daniel in Division II, Martha Pierce in Division III, Dorothy Poor and Thomas Tindale in Division IV will represent our high school March 27th in the District Contest to be held at Terre Haute.

A PERFECT DAY

My wants are few; in other words my ideal day would not be impossible but improbable.

I should like to get up about four o'clock in the morning of this perfect day, eat a light breakfast, call forth my Siberian cheese hound, known to my common neighbors as collies, and please my anatomy by taking a brisk walk in the damp, morning air. Seated in some high hill top, isolated from the contaminating influences of humanity, I would like to view our radiant western sun, rising to its full glory, casting a rich golden glow over our country and her allies. I would like for my heart to rise with this sun, for my spirits to drop all cares and worries on the dewy grass, and my brain to clear itself from the foggy mess of Biology, Latin, English, and History within my head and for once to feel really free so I could enjoy myself.

Returning to my home I would efface the dirt from my homely but hewing countenance and paint a few pictures. After tiring of this, some candy, popped corn, apples, and a book would furnish entertainment for a while.

Upon deciding to let some one else enjoy my day with me I should drive forth

"The romance begins and ends with two blank pages."

my coal-black steed, whom I call Henry, and go get some of my flapper friends, whose painted visages would destroy the dull darkness of my means of transportation, to go with me for a bumpy ride over the lovely ruts of the picturesque lanes of Indiana. Perhaps we would stop somewhere and pick flowers. While here I would show my ignorant friends the different parts of plants, about which Professor C. Hezekiah Cunningham taught me, and present the intelligence which I possess but do not often exhibit to public opinion.

Then the next thing would be to return home for lunch. This being my ideal day I should demand the right to select my food which for lunch should consist of lemonade, colored pink, chocolate cake, a whole cocoanut, and ice cream with chocolate flavoring, whipped cream and nuts. After whetting my major appetite with these minor food particles I should lie down and enjoy the traditional forty winks. My sister would probably awaken me and announce that it was time for practice. I would wave aside her suggestion, in a majestic manner, asserting that it was my day and the next thing in the program was a good movie, preferably starring Ben Lupin or some other celluloid Romeo.

I should make sure of enjoying myself in the theater by getting a front seat in the gallery and a bag of peanuts which should be in the shell for I always want to have the pleasure of cracking them myself.

If some school teacher should happen to be sitting with her sheik directly below me where I could drop my peanut shells into her lap conveniently, I would stay and see the show twice. Such pleasures are not often afforded to disillusioned mortals such as I.

Arriving home I should send out my orders to the kitchen. The menu would not be very elaborate but awfully filling. A necessity following would be a short rest.

Later, bethinking myself of my duty to mankind, I should arouse myself and put forth my last effort to make myself an American Venus for the approaching date. After satisfying myself that my nose would never be straight on my forehead, smooth and white, as well as high and intellectual, I would shed a few tears, re-powder my facial humility, and set forth for the appointed corner. Arriving about half-way there I would suddenly be reminded that my grandfather and grandmother were coming to spend the evening. Realizing the ability of my grandfather as a storyteller, I would rush home and into my old clothes to wait his arrival.

As soon as he and grandmother came we would all rush for chairs near him and listen to the tales of the gigantic fish that got away, of the ghost that haunted his home place in the South, and the thrilling fox chase with his thoroughbreds—Rough and Ruddy in the lead. He would laugh inside as usual at the sober way in which we would believe his exaggerated stories, but he would never admit, with no matter how much teasing, that his narratives were untrue.

After their departure we would tumble into bed to lie awake for hours and imagine that we could see the ghosts of which we had just been informed. We would later sink off into a deep sleep, the perfect end of a perfect day.

—LETHA WABLE.

SCHOLARSHIP "C" HONORS

One of the most commendable awards of Clinton High School is the Scholarship "C" award. Far too common is the practice of Indiana High Schools to furnish incentives to and reward the students for achievements in the so-called extra-curricular activities. Exceptional achievements in scholarship, too often, is passed by unnoted and accepted as a matter of fact. A high rank in scholarship is the ambition of every boy and girl who wishes to be successful because they realize that success rests fundamentally upon knowledge. The habits of study, concentration, regularity, and application that one has to form in attaining high scholarship are valuable assets in any one's capital for life's investments. Some one in the past has been most wise and far seeing in the establishment of the Scholarship "C" award for students in Clinton High School. Many students strive for it and, whether successful or unsuccessful in gaining the coveted award, are better equipped to successfully cope with the problems of life.

The Scholarship "C" award is a small gold pin given to any student who maintains an average grade of "A" (90) in each of four subjects for each of the two semesters of one school year. For each additional year that a student merits this award a bar and guard bearing the year is given.

The awards for the year 1924-25 are as follows:

- Ave, Mary
- 2 Beveridge, Whancta
- 2 Borkon, Oscar
- Daniel, Urcle
- 4 Duggcr, Bessie
- 2 Fenoglio, Mary
- 2 Fenoglio, William
- 3 Forte, Edith
- Houser, Mabel
- Isgregg, Alice
- McKinney, Margaret
- 2 Miller, Esther
- Murdock, Josephine
- Peters, Frank
- Pollo, Madeline
- 3 Reed, Helen
- Reeder, Ruth
- Ritcheson, Ruth
- Runyan, Mabel
- 2 Satterlee, Florence
- 2 Shattuck, Morris
- Stout, James
- Wallis, Minetta
- 3 Walter, Doris

Number before name indicates the number of Scholarship "C's" won.

Calendar

SEPTEMBER (1925)

- 1—School here again. The teachers make assignments before we have even bought our books.
- 9—We came happily (?) to school, carrying an armload of books. Everybody makes a grand dash for favorite assembly seats.
- 10—How can we even think about studying when it is so beastly hot?
- 11—We wonder why Miss Medill is keeping three assemblies? (And every day, too).
- 14—Another week begins. Seniors and Juniors organize. Mrs. McWethy lets Darrell conduct the peaceful (?) Junior election.
- 15—Sophs and Freshies organize (if you can call it that).
- 16—Miss Fordice arranges assembly seats. Many disappointed glances observed among students. How could she tell just where you wanted to sit, anyway?
- 17—Organization of departmental clubs start.
- 18—Junior Annual Staff selected. Seniors sniff.
- 21—First meeting of Board of Control held today. There was a very sparse attendance, but officers were elected just the same.
- 22—Dictionary work in all English classes. No use to have a library permit because you can't get in thru the crowd up there.
- 23—General Assembly. Reverend Cletis Brown makes farewell talk.
- 24—Seventh period assembly is greatly entertained by Victrola music and 1-2-3-4's out on the school ground.
- 25—First pep session of season. New yell leaders pep it up.
- 26—First game! Big victory! That is, if you care for track meets.
- 29—Dorothy's little doggie followed her into the assembly, and Dorothy had to carry it out.

OCTOBER

- 1—Junior class meets after school to choose rings and pins. They sure did pick a good-looking ring.
- 2—Well, today the boys left for Evansville. Let's wish them luck!
- 3—We lost, but anyhow our team put up a good fight.
- 5—Another blue Monday! How we do hate Mondays.
- 6—Did you notice Letha's smiling (?) face during Miss Medill's second period assembly.
- 7—Phil's Harmonic Society sings for us at General Assembly today.
- 8—Mr. Cashner brings his camera, sets it up in front of the library steps, and commands us to look at the little birdie, and not squint our faces.
- 9—Teacher's chorus: "Did you bring your dime for your annual picture? Well, don't forget it tomorrow."
- 10—Laid low again at a score of 23-0. What is the matter with us, anyway?
- 12—There was a Fall Festival all this week. Also a carnival. By the time you go to all those things you haven't much time left to study.
- 13—Ring salesman came to take sizes for Junior rings. Oh, girls! Wasn't he handsome?
- 15—Second pep session. Very effective new yell learned:—We will win!—pause.
- 20—Senior Hobo Day! Would you have thought it of the dignified Seniors? The teachers take their annual jaunt to Indianapolis. Of course all students were very sorry.
- 26—This was certainly an uneventful day.

"Nine months—nine little months—nine drops of time."

CALENDAR—Continued

- 27—We have a short general assembly in which we are told that we will have to pay if we want to stand up on the bleachers.
- 28—Voluntary pep session at noon today in preparation for the Garfield game Saturday.
- 30—Big parade uptown! Fifteen rahs for the team!
- 31—Alas! Garfield beat us. The boys didn't let them make their points by a touchdown anyhow.

NOVEMBER

- 2—Mr. Michael gets his tongue a little twisted at Board of Control meeting today. Really he meant to say "tickets printed" instead of "prickets tinted."
- 3—Don't you just love to watch the janitor wash windows?
- 4—Most popular question: How many days did you say it was until Thanksgiving Vacation?
- 5—We wonder what's the matter with the clock in the assembly. It seems to be a quitter.
- 6—And today it snowed.
- 10—We learn a new yell at our voluntary pep session at noon today.
- 11—A big day! Did the team hold Linton? They sure did!
- 12—Everyone is feeling all puffed up today.
- 13—After Wednesday's tie game we feel strong enough to whip Robinson.
- 16—Mr. Hays really ought to have more executive ability. Where were all of the Board of Control members, anyway?
- 17—We are beginning to wonder when some of the famous Athenian-Ionian debates are going to take place. We want to know which side gets to keep the cup.
- 18—Mr. Reeder's U. S. History I class is informed that next semester the U. S. History II class will not have to keep a note-book. Rather a cruel thing to say, don't you think so?
- 20—Snake dance uptown tonight. "There will be a hot time in the old town to-night." Robinson tomorrow.
- 21—Something that seemed to be impossible has happened! We beat Robinson!! What a thrill we got when Darrell made that touchdown!
- 23—The teachers are very, very busy today.
- 24—The faculty puts on a play. Can you imagine it? And Susy (Miss Deardorf) wanted to go to Sioux City so bad.
- 25—All you can hear today, "I don't know nothin'!" I know that sounds very original (?) but it is really quoted from the faculty play.
- 26—In this instance, Coach Kelly's predictions were flops because the team trounced Brazil good and hard. Varda stars. This was the first day of Thanksgiving vacation, too, so we have a double reason for celebrating.
- 30—Juniors have great expectations of getting rings and pins today, but are disappointed.

DECEMBER

- 1—Mrs. Johnson's Cicero class is pleasantly surprised with a lovely (?) exam.
- 2—We anticipate with delight (?) the cards coming out tomorrow.
- 3—The results of our folly in not studying are brought before us in the shape of F's and C's.
- 4—Did 'ja see the "Freshman"? Gee! Wasn't it good?
- 7 & 8—The Exchange Club puts on a musical play called "The Windmills of Holland". Girls taking chorus sang.
- 9—Miss Randolph is determined to make us sing "America" right. It's "all that breathe", not "all that breeze".

"Time rolls his ceaseless course."

- 10—General Assembly. Reverend Ashley and Reverend Brenneman make talks.
- 14—What are those funny shiny things hanging down from the lights? Oh, thermometers. Who'd have thought it?
- 17—Harold G., in English class: "Some famous men have queer-sounding voices, something like mine."
- 21—Blue Triangle club holds initiation for new members. Weren't they mean to put soot all over our faces?
- 22—Have you got all your Christmas shopping done yet?
- 23—Rah! Rah! Our last day of school for a whole eleven days. General assembly in which Santa Claus reveals what books certain students are to get for Christmas.

JANUARY (1926)

- 4—The dignified Seniors make about as many slips as the Freshies today as the floors are well oiled.
- 5—Teacher's query—"Why haven't you your lesson? You have had all vacation to study on this and there is absolutely no excuse for you." (Given short and snappily).
- 6—Ah! We have a debate. Say, did you know that the city is a better place in which for to live?
- 8—Thought of average student at end of every week: "I know I have not worked so very hard this week, but next week I'll get down to brass tacks." (Of course, he always does).
- 11—School wouldn't be so bad if it wasn't for these terrible Mondays.
- 12—First period History class shows that they know so much (?) about the use of different implements.
- 13—Mr. White, evangelist at Hill Crest, sings for us.
- 14—Reviews start for semester exams! Horrors! Only one more week until the fatal two days.
- 15—Mr. Reeder has no pity on poor little dogs that get into the assembly.
- 18—General assembly this morning first period to celebrate the winning of the County Basketball Tourney.
- 19—Mr. Beriault entertained us today with some very interesting readings, impersonations, etc. We certainly did enjoy that reading which he gave during the fourth and fifth periods. You know, two periods taken up—.
- 20—The dreaded day beginning semester exams. is here!
- 21—No school today while the teachers grade our papers.
- 22—Ah! Report cards! How we dread to go home!
- 25—Teachers haven't assigned any lessons as yet so we are sitting pretty today.
- 26—Miss Livingstone, explaining figures of speech, reads: "Flying fishes and walking forests." Says: "Now they don't." Did she really think we were that dumb?
- 29—Oh, dear! Linton beat us in a basketball game.

FEBRUARY

- 1—Guess who the official mail-carriers of the eighth period assembly are. Mary Louise W. and Marian M.! Who'd have thought it?
- 4—We are given many mottoes and ideals to work for by Dr. Frank Church, who spoke at our assembly today.
- 5—Who would have thought "Freddie" could write a play for the Annual Selling Campaign???
- 10—Sarah Trevvarthan makes a slight miscount in periods and goes to History class

"Backward, turn backward, then time in your flight."

- a period too early. Was she embarrassed? Oh, no (?)
- 11—Imagine this! Paul Ashley actually thought in Geometry class. (At least, he said he did.)
- 12—We wonder (?) why Harold G. didn't go ahead and sharpen his pencil in the third period assembly as he evidently intended to do.
- 13—Lawrence "Pat" Shannon certainly loves to look at pictures with Bill Salisbury.
- 16—Didn't Earl make a wonderful (?) talk in English VI the first time he was called on?
- 17—Letha W. certainly deserves her nickname of "Wriggles."
- 18—Ha! We spy a challenge on the board! Let's all be sure and go to the game Saturday night.
- 19—Special car to Brazil for the basketball game tonight. Martha Bence (on car) is sorely afraid she will get cold. She had forgotten to wear her beads.
- 22—We cannot help but think what an awful trouncing Brazil gave us! And Normal beat us, too. Isn't it terrible?
- 23—We notice that the Annual Sales thermometer is slowly but surely rising.
- 24—Genevieve H. reads Shakespeare! We saw a copy of "Romeo and Juliet" on her desk!
- 25—Miss Medill does not seem to notice how many windows she has open, but the rest of us shiver and shake in her assembly.
- 26—Jenny B. and Tegwith H. must not be such naughty little girls any more.

MARCH

- 1—Again the month of winds and sooty faces comes round.
- 2—Are Stanley C. and Johnny K. practicing baseball or merely seeing who can throw the most paper-wads in the seventh period assembly?
- 3—We know that Richard W. just loves the eighth period assembly, and he is always so busy.
- 4—"Abie" is certainly fond of "Sleepy Time Gal."
- 8—We wonder why so many girls are cutting pictures out of magazines. If that is all they have to do, we envy them.
- 9—Eugene M. is evidently determined not to recite in Geometry. We wonder what Miss Morgan thinks.
- 10—General assembly day! Hot Dog!
- 11—Louise H. and Pete V. Sweet breakfast food!!
- 12—Raymond C. certainly has an awful time trying to read his English lesson.
- 13—Weather report: Snow changing to rain. (Will it never end?)
- 16—Fire drill today. Mr. Michael stands at head of stairs with stick. (He wouldn't really hit us very hard, do you think?)
- 17—Mr. Michael demands that we clean house. We'll have to admit that some of us certainly needed to.
- 18—Rain and snow must have taken the curl out of Sue's hair.
- 19—Another week closes. We rejoice! Of course, we love (?) school, but—
- 22—Ah! "Spring has come", sing the little song-birds. (Also other kinds of birds.)
- 23—"Say, when's Spring Vacation gonna' be, do you know?" Those words are certainly overworked.
- 24—My goodness! Won't something please happen, so that I can record it in the calendar?
- 25—Edward K. just did avert a terrible disaster! To fall down in the front of the whole assembly! Shades of Despair!
- 26—Another surprise history test. How we hate 'em!

"Life is a comedy."

CALENDAR—Continued

APRIL

- 1—This is the kind of an April Fool we like. Spring Vacation starts today!
- 5—April showers—showers—showers.
- 7—Warm days beginning. If you can think of a good excuse, we'll skip school.
- 8—We wish we could take a ride after school, like "Dearie" does.
- 9—Teachers urge us to hurry with our book reports and not "leave them until the last minute."
- 12—We've all got spring fever. How we wish this day would end!
- 13—Watch out as you pass the Fire House, girls. All those J. H. S. boys have rubbers.
- 14—Have you students started your gardening yet? Oh, yes, I know you have. (?)
- 15—Little high school children should go to the corner to cross the street.
- 16—Another very quiet day.
- 19—Junior and Senior girls are already beginning to plan what they are going to wear to the Junior-Senior banquet.
- 20—"Wrighty" says: "I'll be the leading man in the class play next year." (We wonder, will he?)
- 21—Juniors are urged to please pay their dues.
- 22—Jenny B. and Loraine M. had quite an exchange of books in the eighth period assembly.
- 23—Mary H. seems always to be staggering under an armload of magazines.
- 26—Tennis tournament again this year.
- 31—One more month and then no more school!

MAY

- 3—We do have the sleepest boys in school. Robert J. and Anton F. both went to sleep in the assembly today.
- 4—Mr. Reeder got so scared the other night. He dreamed that Miss Mainard had to take one of his long history tests.
- 5—Another blank.
- 6—Seniors very curious about banquet, but Juniors keep "mum."
- 7—Just think! In a couple of weeks another old year will be completed. That is, with the exception of us poor mortals who have to take Summer School.
- 21—A long jump, but I made it! The big occasion was the Junior-Senior Banquet. A wonderful time was enjoyed by all.
- 23—Baccalaureate Sermon.
- 25-26—Semester Exams! How we wish we were Seniors!
- 28—Well, Good-by, Everybody! Hope you have a nice vacation.

"We push time from us and we wish him back."

Athletics In C. H. S.

(1925-26)

Clinton High School has two chief athletic sports. These are football and basketball. During the last seven years, it is doubtful if any high school in Indiana has had better athletic years on the average than Clinton High School. True, there has been no state basketball championship won, but, when you consider your athletic year, which must include the two main high school sports, Clinton High School has maintained a general excellence in athletics that is hard to equal. Some high schools have good basketball teams and no football at all; others have splendid basketball and very poor football teams, still others have excellent football records and no records to be proud of in basketball.

The present year opened with not a very good outlook for either football or basketball. The football material consisted of Captain Magnabosco, Kendall, Overpeck, M. Moore, and others—about whom little was known. It was early discovered that the material was there and more than that, the real old C. H. S. spirit, but it took time to find the proper places for the new men. Defeats by the narrowest margins, and tie games featured the early games. Swinging into the middle of the season, the team was ready for the big games. Linton came, confident of victory. The result was a scoreless tie. After Linton, Sullivan fell a victim to a well planned and an irresistible attack. Robinson, the Clinton Nemesis, who had never been defeated by the Old Gold and Black came for a "practice game." Their sweet dream was spoiled by Overpeck grabbing a pass from Maggie and scoring a touchdown. Maggie kicked goal. The game ended 7-0 in favor of Clinton.

Moving on to Brazil at Thanksgiving, the Old Gold and Black proved to football critics in the Wabash Valley that there was no team that could have beaten them that day. Introducing the "Red" Grange of high school football, together with a team that played flawlessly in every department, Brazil went down to the tune of 35-7. Stunned by this defeat, but accustomed to disappointment in the annual football contests with Clinton, Brazil is still wondering how it happened.

This year's basketball season has been a success. The great majority of games has been won. Numbered among Clinton's victims were Sullivan, Wiley, Cayuga, Glenn, Newport, Perrysville and others. Clinton easily won the County Tourney at Newport. This was especially pleasing because Cayuga, who faced our boys in the final game, had previously won a game from Clinton by a large score. The Old Gold and Black team won the right to play in the finals of the Wabash Valley Tournament at Terre Haute by defeating both Marshall and Mecca in the preliminary. Our first game was with the strong Linton aggregation. After leading the first half, Clinton succumbed to a third quarter attack and was not able to overcome a lead thus established, the final score resulting 31-29 in Linton's favor. At this writing the outlook is good for Clinton to win its sectional and go to Martinsville to the regional.

The above is just a brief resume of athletic activities in Clinton High. There will be spring football and basketball practice to get a line on these squads for next year.

Season's Review

Sept. 26                                      Clinton 114—Shelburn 0                                      Here

Clinton opened the 1925 football season with an overwhelming victory over Shelburn. The inexperience of the visitors proved fatal and the Old Gold and Black scored almost at will.

Oct. 3    Clinton 0—Evansville 13                                      There

Fighting like demons in a sea of mud, C. H. S. tasted defeat at the hands of the strong Central of Evansville eleven. The heavy line of Central was too much for Kelly's men, but every player fought until the last.

Oct. 10    Clinton 0—Bicknell 23                                      There

After holding Bicknell to a lone field goal the first half, the Old Gold and Black weakened and Bicknell scored three touchdowns, while Clinton was unable to offer an offensive strong enough to pierce their opponent's line.

Oct. 17    Clinton 0—Oakland 0                                      Here

C. H. S., after two defeats, came back and tied the powerful Oakland team. Oakland proved to have a very strong defense and although Clinton made much ground by an aerial attack, it was unable to cross the goal line.

Oct. 31    Clinton 0—Garfield 6                                      Here

Clinton suffered its first defeat in two years on the home gridiron when it met Garfield. Two field goals spelled disaster, although C. H. S. was not at its best because of injuries to several of the regulars.

"We did rejoice—when we beat Robinson."

SEASON'S REVIEW—Continued

Nov. 11                                      Clinton 0—Linton 0                                      Here

The Old Gold and Black exhibited its best football against Linton, who tied for the Wabash Valley Football Championship. Clinton was the only team to hold Linton scoreless and played wonderful football to do so.

Nov. 14                                      Clinton 27—Sullivan 7                                      There

C. H. S. regaining confidence took Sullivan into camp with very little difficulty. The Kelly men piled up a commanding lead and played a defensive game the greater part of the remaining time. Sullivan scored only when many substitutes had replaced the regulars.

Nov. 21                                      Clinton 6—Robinson 0                                      Here

For the first time in the history of the school Clinton defeated its oldest rival, Robinson. Every man was at his best and although Robinson possessed one of the best teams in the valley, C. H. S. threatened to cross the goal line many times. The only touchdown came late in the last quarter. A pass from Magnabosco to Overpeck counted the six points for the Old Gold and Black.

Nov. 26                                      Clinton 35—Brazil 7                                      There

The annual Turkey Day game with Brazil was again won by Clinton. Varda, Clinton's back, with the support of every man on the team, broke through the Red and White line for gain after gain and four touchdowns.

"Mighty records can spring from naught but mighty deeds."

OLD GOLD AND BLACK

VARDA—Half Back

Pete, although it was his first year, developed into one of the best open field runners in the state. His speed brought Clinton many yards.

KENDALL—Tackle

"Hoss", his third year at regular, a hard fighter and a "heady" one. He won a sweater for his reward.

M. MOORE—Tackle

Moore's interference at tackling won him the respect of both teammates and opponents. He graduates this year.

MAGNABOSCO—Full Back; Captain

Maggie, four year man, All Valley and All State fullback. His kicking, passing and plunging will long be remembered as the best in the wide sweep where he has played.

OVERPECK—End

"Curly's" ability to catch passes and defensive work made him a most valued man. He graduates, after winning his sweater in this sport.

BEAL—End

"Pete" played his first and last year for C. H. S., but proved himself a spirited fighter, and never quit.

"A good deed is never forgotten."

VAN HOOSIER—Center

"Punk" made good at center because of his fight and passing. He has another year at C. H. S.

LADIHA—Tackle

The long fellow of the team and a real fighter. His tackling raised many a cheer along the sidelines. He graduates.

MARSH—Halfback

"Cliff", the "fighting fool," and interference runner. His first year proved that C. H. S. had obtained a good man.

WRIGHT—Utility

"Cut" broke in at end and halfback. He returned punts in nice shape and pulled down many passes.

SHEW—Tackle

Frank soon developed into a very useful man and although sickness kept him out he was at his best against Linton. He has three more years.

RIGONI—Guard: Halfback

"Tets" always drove hard and his defensive power made and kept him a regular, although injuries hindered him. He graduates.

MELMOURNE—Halfback

Melbourne backed up the line in nice shape, plunged hard and did neat interference work. He is a Junior.

"Enthusiasm and will conquer the impossible."

HILL—Utility

Oscar played at guard and tackle. He always fought and won a good name in his last year.

O. BORKON—Utility

Borkon worked in at center but experience kept him from a regular berth.

FAULDS—Halfback

"Peanuts" kept up the old fight, used his head and won everyone's admiration by it. He should make Clinton a valuable man next year.

BEVERIDGE—Utility

"Bevey," another hard fighter and sure tackler. This was his first year and he will surely make a name for himself next.

MARTIN—Guard

Aaron won a regular position and would certainly have kept it, through his excellent playing, had he not been put out on account of serious injuries.

E. MOORE—Utility

Snagging passes proved to be in "Ernie's" line and he fought just as hard as he talked.

B. MOORE—Utility

"Bernie" broke in at end and did good work. He and "Ernie" both graduate this year.

"Like unto a lion."

OLD GOLD AND BLACK

OVERPECK Forward

"Curly" played his last year for C. H. S. and earned his sweater in this sport. He was high point man and a power on the offense. C. H. S. loses a valuable man with his graduation.

MARSH Forward

"Cliff", the hard fighter and all-around good man. This was his first season with C. H. S. and he should be a still more valued star next year.

M. MOORE Captain; Center

Marion was a big cog in the Old Gold and Black offense because of his ability to get the tip. He always fought and proved himself a worthy Captain. He graduates.

WRIGHT Guard

"Cut" possessed a wonderful eye for the basket and helped to work the floor in nice shape. His left handed dribble made him even more dangerous.

LADIHA Guard

"Puby" made a wonderful defensive man and worried his opponents by breaking up their passwork again and again. He also dropped in many a pointer when needed most.

"An ounce of enterprise is worth a pound of privilege."

E. MOORE—Forward

"Ernie" worked in at forward and played excellent basketball. The fight he always put up made him useful in tight places.

B. MOORE—Forward

"Bernie" was "Ernie's" running mate and a good one. His passwork and shooting made him a valuable man.

VAN HOOSIER—Center

"Punk" broke into several games this season and did good work. His fight along with this year's experience will make him a valuable man next year.

RIGONI—Guard

"Leti" was a good guard and wonderful dribbler. He broke in to several games.

MELBOURNE—Guard

Melbourne's defensive ability made him a dependable guard. He always worked hard and kept in condition to do his best.

BALL—Guard

"Mort" played utility guard and did good work. He has two more years of playing and should make a fine guard.

"A Full House" was present on November 23 at the Capitol Theater to see the C. H. S. Faculty make its debut in the dramatic world. The three act comedy with its touching love scenes, its mistaken identities, the roar of the police, and the screams of the maid, was so favorably received that a faculty play may become an annual event.

The money realized from this production has been divided, $100 being given to the Students' Loan Fund and the balance is being kept to be invested when some worthy cause is presented.

The Hottentot

The class of '26 chose "The Hottentot", a 3-act comedy by Victor Mapes and William Collier, as its dramatic production.

It is a story of the race-track, full of clever lines and keen wit. Sam Harrington is afraid of horses, having lost his nerve in an accident. There is a famous rider by the same name. Peggy Fairfax, in love with Sam, and believing him to be the famous rider, persuades him to ride her horse "Bountiful," in a steeplechase. Sam purchases "The Hottentot," a fiery racer, so he need not ride him. The butler, wishing to aid Sam, feeds apples and water to "Bountiful," so she cannot run in the race. To defeat a rival, Sam presents "The Hottentot" to Peggy, rides him to victory, wins the cup, and—of course—the girl.

Following is a cast of the characters:

Sam Harrington.....	Adelbert Hayes
Peggy Fairfax.....	Mary Louise Whitecomb
Mae Gilford.....	Lucretia Swinehart
Allie Gilford.....	Russell Wilson
Alec Fairfax.....	John Magnabosco
Larry Gilford.....	Darrel Overpeck

"Hobbie" played a good guarding game and helped work the ball down in nice shape.

SHANNON—Forward

"Chick" possessed a good eye for the basket and pulled the Juniors out of several tight places.

MUCIARELLI—Forward

Lack of experience at the game hindered "Danny" but he always scrapped.

GILFOY—Forward

"Jackie", a clean fighting little chap who always used his head. "Jackie" should be a great help to the high school.

HOWELL—Guard

Howell played for the first time with J. H. S. He was soon coached to defend the goal in good style.

OLD GOLD AND BLACK

PRALL—Center

Prall worked the floor in fine shape and fought hard at all times.

COBURN—Guard

Coburn proved to be of value at back guard and helped carry the offensive.

HAYS—Utility

Hays broke in at guard and worked hard. His size aided him to take the rebounds.

WHEELER—Utility

Wheeler, although inexperienced, broke into several games.

NAGLE—Forward

"Nag" played forward and relieved his man to good advantage.

HAYSLETT—Forward

Hayslett showed good defensive power and played a fine floor game.

Murmurs of the Faculty

Mr. Boyd: "Lost time can never be found."

Miss Campbell: "It is not doing the things we like to do but liking the things we have to do that makes successful life."

Mr. Hayes: "Results, not excuses."

Miss Treagor: "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach: so, girls, learn to cook."

Mr. Pruitt: "Why be tardy when passing from one class to another? Why you can walk 33 miles in  $3\frac{1}{2}$  hours."

Miss Williams: "All that you do, do with your might. Things done by halves are never done right."

Miss Nurnburger: "Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well."

Miss Delp: "Learn to do by doing."

Miss Salorolgo: "Dress up your ideas with correct English."

DALLAS CLOYD AND HIS ARITHMETIC

Mr. Hays is my teacher,
I shall not pass;
He leadeth me to expose my ignorance before the class;
He maketh me to work problems in Arithmetic
For my grades' sake.
Yes, tho' I study until midnight
I cannot understand Arithmetic
For problems and rules sorely trouble me.
He prepareth problems for me in the presence of my class,
He giveth me a low grade,
My worth runneth under,
Surely zeros and seventy-five shall follow me
The rest of the days of my life
And I shall dwell in the Arithmetic class forever.

THE FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

'Tis the first day of school,
We all are fresh and cool
To start in our studies so dear.
If you get a good start
And work with all your heart,
Then you have nothing to fear.

THE LAST DAY OF SCHOOL

Oh my! But time does fly,
For here vacation days are nigh,
And our report cards will show
Our points in our work
And how much we know.
If your grades fairly be—
Then your vacation minds will be free.

"WHAT I WANT TO BE"

I

I want to be a teacher,
So very stern and bold,
To make the children obey me,
And do what they are told.

II

I never want to scold them,
I want them to be nice,
But if they're very, very mean,
I'll slap them once or twice.

—NANCY LAIRD.

AN INSPIRATION

When I was walking down the street,
A Robin caught my eye.
And don't you know it was a treat
To see that Robin fly.

It was the first real bird I'd seen
Since in the fall months late.
And then, to me for sure did seem
That winter would not tarry late.

I could have shouted then and there!
But then, I caught myself in time.
For I was in the public's view,
And had been for some time.

So when I was through with business,
And went to see my sweetheart fair,
I was prepared to ask Her highness,
A question that was burning there.

—RICHARD MODEST.

"Unless you're opportunity, don't knock."

MY WISH

A couple of million I'd like to have
To keep the family and Mother and Dad.
A nice pretty wife I'd also get,
Then her name would be Mrs. William Minett.
An aeroplane I would also buy,
So up in the air I could fly.
An honorable name I would also want,
So a good name I would not be in want.
To help the poor I would also do
For of the rich there are such a few.
A good temper will always be wanted,
So for my grouchiness I will not be taunted.
In healthful shape I hope to be
In bed with sickness I like not to be.
Beautiful children I want in my care,
For without children you have no heir.
A large radio would be fine,
To listen to before bedtime.
Last but no least comes happiness,
Which by all people has always been blessed!

— WILLIAM MINETT.

ATHLETIC ADVANCEMENT

"He's doin' pretty good with the three R's," answered the farmer.

"Readin', 'Ritin' and 'Rithmetic?"

"No, Runnin', Rasslin', an' Ragtime."

BOBBIE'S LOGIC

Bobbie was reading history, and looking up suddenly, he asked: "What is 'be-headed', Mother?"

"Having one's head cut off, darling," she replied.

After a thoughtful moment Bobbie remarked: "I suppose defeated is having one's feet cut off."

YES?

Jo Raynes: "There would be a funeral."

Nelle M. (to aviator): "Mister, would you take me for a little fly?"
Aviator: "Why, not at all. You look much more like a little girl."

Wayne B. was reading the following sentence: "On the horizon appeared a splendid—"

"Barque," prompted Miss Hall.

"Wayne (staring): "No."

"That's what I said: 'Barque'," persisted Miss Hall.

"Bow-wow," said Wayne.

Lucille R. (viewing a display of rubber gloves): "Now I wonder what those things are for?"

Martha B.: "Oh, you can put 'em on and wash your hands without getting your hands wet."

"Are you laughing at me?" demanded Fred N. Reeder, irately.

"No," came the answer in chorus.

"Well," insisted Freddie, "What else is there in the room to laugh at?"

Mrs. Johnson entered a store and asked to be shown some tablecloths. A salesman brought a pile and showed them to her, but she said she had seen those elsewhere—nothing suited her.

"Haven't you something new?" she asked.

The clerk brought another pile and showed them to her.

"These are the newest patterns," he said. "You will notice that the edge runs right around the border, and the center is in the middle."

"Isn't that lovely!" exclaimed Mrs. Johnson. "I'll take half a dozen of those."

"Is Mr. Perkins at home?" inquired Mr. Stwalley, in another city at the home of a friend.

"Which one, sir?—there are brothers living here," said the maid.

For a moment Stwalley looked puzzled, then he had an idea.

"The one who has a sister living in St. Louis," he explained.

Miss Randolph was trying to impress upon the members of the boys' chorus the meaning of "f" and "ff" in a song they were about to learn.

"Now, if 'f' means forte, what does 'ff' mean?"

"Eighty," shouted Darrell Freleigh, enthusiastically.

Georgia C.: "Why did you send me that alarm clock for a birthday present?"

George McR.: "Well, you said you liked rings."

Mrs. McWethy: "A man is simply helpless without a wife. Believe me, whenever Cecil wants to mend his clothes or darn his socks, I have to thread the needles for him."

Grace C.: "I told him he was a brute and returned all his beastly presents."

Sue S.: "And what did the wretch do?"

Grace C.: "Sent me a dozen boxes of face powder in return for what he had taken home on his coat!"

Frank P.: "There are so many cases of incendiarism nowadays. What do you think causes them?"

Emlen T.: "Matches, mostly, I suppose."

Miss Medill: "Late again."

Dad (sternly): "Where were you last night?"

Fred M.: "Oh, just riding around with some of the boys!"

Dad: "Well, will you please tell them not to leave their compacts in the car, after this?"

Miss Wright: "'I have went.' That's wrong, isn't it?"

Tommy C.: "Yes, ma'am."

Miss Wright: "Why is it wrong?"

Tommy: "Because you ain't went yet."

Anna M. S.: "Oh my! I've lost my little dog, Mickie! What can I do?"

Clifford M.: "Why not advertise for him?"

Anna Mildred: "Alas! The dear pet can't read!"

Mailman Dow says: "Gosh! Look at all these letters and I gotta date with 'Dearie,' too. I got a good mind to mail 'em."

Prospective Employer: "Young man, I specified in my advertisement that I wanted someone who knew shorthand."

Anton Fenoglio (prospective employee): "Ah—er—sir, really, I can't write it—but I can speak it fluently!"

"Have you been reading Longfellow?" said Miss Livingstone to her fellow traveler on the seat opposite.

"No, about a quarter of an hour," was the reply.

"What stories auto engines could tell if it were not for the mufflers," said Carl Meyer.

Abie Taylor says: "The breathing of the girl in knickers is somewhat boyish: it comes in short pants."

Miss Randolph: "I want two Tuna fish."

Grocer: "You had better stick to pianos."

Dot Poor: "Look, look! Our team is on the ten yard line!"

Jennie B.: "That's nothing, their team is too."

Miss West: "How was the Senior party?"

Miss Deardorf: "Not much. Everybody attended classes the next morning."

Sid Silverman is so extremely intelligent that he thinks the U. S. mint is a cough drop.

Alvise Ave (to librarian): "May I take Janice Meredith out over the week-end?"

Agnes L.: "Did you hear Dr. Jones' baccalaureate?"

Ruth R.: "No, but all those foreign cars are dreadfully noisy."

"I never dare to write as funny as I can."

OLD GOLD AND BLACK

Pete V.: "Frank had one sweater last week and now he has three."
Kicky: "He usually stretches things."

Richard W.: "Do you sleep with your windows open?"
Paul Williams: "Naw, just my mouth."

St. Peter: "Who goes there?"
Answer: "A Clinton student."
St. Peter: "Have you bought an annual?"
Student: "Yes!"
St. Peter: "Good! Stop annual, pass student!"

Miss Fordice (having fallen off bridge): "Louise! Hclp! Yell for me!"
Louise H.:

Rah, Rah,
Rah, Rah, Rah,
Rah, Rah,
Rah, Rah, Rah,
Rah, Rah,
Rah, Rah, Rah,

Fordice! Fordice! Fordice!

Marion M.: "I'm not going out in Coach's car any more."
Darrell O.: "How's that?"
Marion: "Aw, I was out with my girl and he penalized me for holding."

Miss Mainard: "Lawrence, can you tell me what a figure of four sides is?"
Lawrence S.: "Yes, ma'am. It's a quadruped."

The members of the faculty met for a gay old time one night and each was trying to beat the other in telling the "biggest."

"D' you know," said Mr. Reeder, "I had a very painful experience oncc. I ran a confounded splinter right under my finger nail."

"Really, Mr. Reeder, how did you do it?" asked a "certain" member of the faculty, sweetly.

"Well," he said, "it happcned like this—." As he spoke he unconsciously raised his hand and scratched his forehead.

"Oh, I see!" she interrupted. "How careless of you!"

Marcel L.: "Is Miss Lucile in?"

Maid: "No, sir."

Marcel: "Very sorry; I'll leave this candy for her."

Maid: "Thank you, sir. She was just wishing she had some when you rang."

Miss Medill: "You don't love me any more. I'm going into the garden and have a good cry."

The Man: "If you really mean that, Thelma, go and cry over the roses. They need water badly."

Little Richard Wilson's mother came suddenly into the room and found her son vigorously slapping his mouth.

"Why, Dickie, what's the matter?" asked his mother. "Why are you slapping your mouth so?"

"Darn thing won't whistle!" answered Richard.

An editor has received the following letter:

"Sur and Friend: Do the Public library lend books tecchin Matthewmattics to Outside you citie? I want only books on Matthewmattics as I am all right on spellin and am a purty good Grammaticiam if I do say so miself. I kin spel and Grammarize, but Matthewmattics is onc too much for me."

"A joke's a very serious thing."

RECIPE FOR AN OMELET

One morning last week my mother asked me to copy the radio menu from a Chicago Broadcasting Station. I did my best.

It seems another station was cutting in with the morning exercise. Anyway, here is my menu.

Hands on hips. Place one cup of flour on shoulders. Raise knee, depress toes and wash thoroughly in one cup of milk. In four counts raise and lower left foot and mash two hard boiled eggs through a sieve. Repeat six to ten times. Inhale one-half teaspoonful of salt, one level teaspoonful of baking powder and one cup of flour; then breathe naturally, exhale and sift.

Attention! Jump to a squatting position, bend white of egg backward and forward in cadence of quick time. Twist sideward, right or left, as far as possible; bring fists together forcibly and beat egg slowly and briskly. Arms forward overhead. Raise cooked eggs from the flour and in four counts make a stiff drop dough which is stretched at the waist, thigh flexed. Lay flat on the floor and roll marbles the size of a walnut. Hop to straddle into boiling salt water, but do not boil at a gallop. After ten minutes remove and wipe with rough towels. Breathe naturally; dress in warm flannels and serve with fish soup.

Chairman of debating club: "Comrades, the motion is, 'That we do all in our power to stop deportation of any citizen, whatever his opinions.' Any dissenter?"

Voice: "Yes."

Chorus: "Chuck 'im out."

Sidney S.: "Maw, that dentist you sent me to that was advertised as painless wasn't."

Mrs. S.: "He wasn't?"

Sid: "No, I bit his finger and he yelled just like any other dentist."

"Here, Eugene Marshall, you hold this bull a minute."

"No," answered Eugene, "I don't mind being a director, but I'm darned if I want to be a stockholder."

"I say, Mrs. Borkon, that boy of yours seems to be mechanically inclined."

"Yes? Why do you say so?"

"I see he can put on his zippers himself."

Lucretia Swinehart had fallen overboard and Raymond Cliver leaned over the side of the boat as she rose to the surface and said:

"Give me your hand."

"Please ask father," she gently murmured as she sank for the third time.

Miss West: "Does the question embarrass you?"

Adelbert H.: "Not at all, not at all. It is quite clear. It is the answer that bothers me."

Archie R.: "Is this a second hand shop?"

Clerk: "Yes, sir."

Archie: "Well, I want one for my watch."

Miss Randolph (during music appreciation): "Now, in this selection, 'The Bee', you can just hear the bee sizzle."

Miss Livingstone: "Have you had any experience in acting?"

Darrell O.: "I played the nut in 'Ben Bolt' once."

"A college joke to cure the dumps."

Laverne (bravely): "Is this Mr. Poor's office?"

"Yes."

"Mr. C. M. Poor?"

"Yes."

"Is he in?"

"Yes, would you like to see him?"

"No, thank you! But can you tell me how long he will be here?"

"Why, he should be here at least three hours, but he can see you perfectly well now."

"Thank you just the same, but I think I'll call on his daughter."

Jennie A.: "Tell me, don't you sailors ever get most terribly homesick?"

Old Seafarer: "Well, I daresay we should if we had to stay there any length of time."

Whatever became of the old-fashioned girl who used to tie up her hair with the ribbons off her beau's chocolate boxes?

Ralph H.: "Honestly, now, do you women like egotistical men as well as the other kind?"

Thelma Hanna (interestedly): "What other kind?"

The crowd cheered wildly as the team trotted on the field. Eleven determined men going forth to fight for the old school, to give all they had for it. With them came Mordecai. All the boys knew Mordecai. At school his genial personality had won him many, many friends. He turned and faced the fans. He smiled. There was confidence as well as determination in his smile. He assumed the pose the fellows had so often seen. With an assuring tone in his voice he barked out: "Water! Who wants water?"

Mr. Michael was in the receiving line at a faculty reception for the Seniors. Lewis Burke, who worked part of the time in a tailor's shop and who had made several shirts for Mr. Michael, approached him. The latter, not recalling his identity, extended his hand cordially and said: "Your face is familiar, young man, but for the moment I can not remember who you are or where I have seen you."

Lewis blushed and whispered in Mr. Michael's ear: "Made your shirts, sir!"

"Oh, to be sure," said Mr. Michael, turning to Mrs. Johnson, who stood next to him in line. "Mrs. Johnson, permit me to present Major Shurtz."

Dow M.: "Will you marry me?"

"Dearie": "No."

And they lived happily ever after.

BUGHOUSE FABLES

Mrs. Johnson: "Yes, boys and girls, I think you are right. I will never tell anyone they are as green as grass again."

Mr. Reeder has decided to wear a wig. He greatly prefers a beautiful auburn shade.

Pete Vardi has stated to newspaper reporters that he will not play football again.

"Maggie": "No, I am not going to College. I am going to take up my life work in a grocery store."

Dot Poor: "I don't think Laverne knows how to play basketball worth a cent."

Grace Calvert: "No, Eli Borkon has not done a thing for the school."

Newspaper Headline: "Marion Moore Breaks Engagement with Miss Mary Louise Whitcomb."

Notice in Daily Clintonian: "Any student desiring to take up Ballet Dancing please report to me as I have given up my Debating Work.—Richard Darrell Freleigh."

Jesters do often prove prophets."

OLD GOLD AND BLACK

Miss Deardoff: "Yes, Dorothy, you may chew chewing gum in my class all the time."

Miss Morgan: "No, I do not think Geometry has any practical use at all."

Partially erased notice on Bulletin board one day: "All students will attend classes — in mourning (morning)."

Mr. Magnabosco: "You ought to keep better hours."

"Maggie": "Are there any better ones than those now in use?"

HEREDITARY 2000 A. D.

"I want to marry your daughter."

"Any tonsils or appendix?"

"No, none in my family for over a hundred years."

HIGH POINTS IN HISTORY

1. The flooding of Athens, which enabled mosquitoes to settle there, with the result that the Athenian civilization perished.

2. The first load of herrings brought to Great Britain from the Baltic in exchange for British wool, thus setting up Great Britain's worldwide system of trade.

3. The discovery of India owing to mankind's craving for pepper to disguise the taste of half-spoiled food.

"To Arms! To Arms!" bellowed Caesar, dashing madly through Bunsen in his Rolls-Royce. "The Riffs are coming!" From every door the vast population of Bunsen streamed.

Pershing and Washington were notified at once and steamed proudly up Feather Creek in a fleet of Fords. King George called a special Congress and formally declared war on the Riffians. Charlemagne, after a long session with Lincoln sent Roland with two zeppelins. Mohammed was of great aid trying to Christianize the Breamians, also Dempsey was of invaluable service writing stirring poetry. The huge army united at Rome, France, Dec. 38, 1953, and Gene Stratton-Porter was chosen commander-in-chief. The first battle was fought in Hongkong, China, in which Silas Marner and King Arthur, and Achilles distinguished themselves.

In this battle poor Chaucer fell over a stone and broke his heart. This was the turning point of the war, for the next day the Riffians found a hershey bar and dissolved because they couldn't agree as to who should have it.

With this new-fangled spelling it is quite a treat to hoppe to the shoppe for the morning choppe.

The circulation manager of the annual was tempted to compose the following:

"How dear to our heart is the old silver dollar, when some kind subscriber presents it to view. The Liberty head without necktie or collar, and all the strange things which to us seem so new: the wide-spreading eagle, the arrows below it, the stars and the words with the strange things they tell; the coin of our fathers, We're glad that we knew it, for sometime or other 'twill come in right well; the spread-eagle dollar, the star-spangled dollar, the old silver dollar we all love so well."

Russell M. (writing to father from college): "Send money immediately. Am almost broke. With much love."

Father: "So's your old man."

"The play ended, happily," recently wrote a local critic. "What a difference a comma can make."

"Is Harold Clark really as dumb as he looks?"

"Gosh! He's dumber! His idea of a snappy present is a rubber plant."

"There is only one step from the sublime to the ridiculous."

I turn back the pages of the Book of Memory. I bring you thoughts of Past Years and Old-time Friends. I keep forever Green the Happy Hours of Childhood. I dull the Pangs of Bereavement and blunt the edge of the Grim Reaper's Scythe. I carry the News of the World, and bring you Visions of Far Distant Lands. Our Modern Civilization is largely dependent on my efforts. Though men may pass and Empires crumble to Dust, My Magic will preserve their likeness for Future Generations. Not Purse-proud, I am within the reach of all. I solve Mysteries impenetrable to Mortal Eyes; I ferret out the Criminal when other means have failed. I illumine the pages of History, and make Learning possible for the Multitude. Born instantaneously in a Ray of Light, I become Everlasting. As necessary in War as in Peace, I am Man's Servant, and yet his Master. I am Art, and yet a Business—I am Photography.

THE END

"We do it all and do it well"

For sixteen years many annual staffs have found that annuals are successful only when the responsibility for the production of the book is placed with one organization. We plan, design, engrave, print and bind annuals under one roof and one supervision.

Service to the editor,

the business manager and the entire annual staff in the form of personal and written instructions and in the creation of new ideas is rendered by men who understand all phases of annual work.

A staff of artists,

capable of grasping the spirit of your school life and transferring it with pencil and brush to the pages of your book, is ready to assist you.

Skilled engravers

are here. Eager, they are, to use their knowledge of the production of fine printing plates in engraving your book.

Printing craftsmen,

typographers, pressmen, binderymen all familiar through years of experience with the problems of annual publication, will complete the work of making your year book a worthy achievement.
